CFP - CALL FOR PEOPLE

Share your story as a Human Book! We seek members of the MLA community to volunteer as books to be “checked out” by “Readers” for 20-minute, one-on-one conversations during our allotted session time:

11 January 2019
8:30am to 9:45am

Responding to this year’s conference theme, "Being Human," the MLA Human Library 2020 creates a space for dialogue as a means to overcoming prejudice. Individuals volunteer to share their stories about facing one of the "13 Pillars of Prejudice" (as defined by humanlibrary.org). As in a regular library, in the Human Library, Readers check out Human Books on topics that interest them in order to learn more about people, their lives and the ways they have been affected by and challenged stereotypes.

MLA HUMAN LIBRARY

Learn more or volunteer to be a Book at: http://webp.svsu.edu/~sfrances/

If you are interested in volunteering but unsure what story you might tell, contact one of us to answer questions or brainstorm with you: Sherrin Frances, sfrances@svsu.edu; Elizabeth Rich, rich@svsu.edu; Dan Gates, gates@svsu.edu; Hilary A. Haakenson, hahaakenson@cpp.edu; or Anthony J. Antonucci, ajantonucci@cpp.edu.